Family Tree

It has been said that you can’t know where you are going until you know where you have been. It is important to be familiar with your family history because it is a part of what makes you you!

On the back of this paper fill in the first and last names of you (at the bottom), your parents, grandparents, and great grandparents.

On your own paper write a mini-biography about you and your family members. Include as much information as you can, such as:

- full name
- dates he or she lived
- where he or she is from
- other relatives (brothers and sisters)
- any other interesting information about his or her life

Family Tree Article

Choose at least one person in your family who is unique and has had a big impact on you and your family. Think about what this person has accomplished, how this person contributes to your family, and how this person has influenced you.

Write a newspaper article about this person. Remember, newspaper articles describe who, what, when, where, why, and how. Include:

- biographical information
- one or two major accomplishments
- how this person has changed your family
- how this person has influenced you
